Patient Education and Counseling, 14 (1989) 263–264
Elsevier Scientific Publishers Ireland Ltd.

Contents

Volume 14 (1989)

EDITORIAL
Accountability, relevance and ethics in scientific journals
by E.E. Bartlett (Washington, DC) 1–2

REVIEW ARTICLE
Attitude behaviour theories and diabetes education programmes by I. de Weerdt, A.Ph. Visser and E.A. van der Veen (Amsterdam and Maastricht, The Netherlands) 3–19

ORIGINAL ARTICLES
Benefits of intensive treatment of insulin-dependent diabetes patients: the importance of patient education by A.P. Visser, J.A. Schouten, E.A. van der Veen and P.R. van den Boogaard (Maastricht and Amsterdam, The Netherlands) 21–29
A back school in The Netherlands: evaluating the results by J.F.E.M. Keijsers, N.H. Groenman, F.M. Gerards, E. van Oudheusden and M. Steenbakkers (Maastricht, The Netherlands) 31–44
A follow up study of dental patient education in the workplace: participants' opinions by L. Schou and A. Monrad (Edinburgh, U.K. and Copenhagen, Denmark) 45–51
An experiment in common sense: education at blood pressure screening by L.J. Baumann, R.S. Zimmerman and H. Leventhal (Madison, WI, Miami, FL and New Brunswick, NJ) 53–67 Patient-physician commmunication when blindness threatens by S.V. Hopper and R.L. Fischbach (St. Louis, MO) 69–79

EDUCATIONAL MODEL OF HEALTH CARE
A psychoeducational intervention for schizophrenic patients by H. Ascher-Svanum (Indianapolis, IN) 81–87

BOOK REVIEWS 89–96

EDITORIAL
Whither patient-centered care
by E.E. Bartlett (Washington, DC) 97–99

ORIGINAL ARTICLES
A randomized trial of group psychoeducational therapy for cancer patients by A.J. Cunningham and E.K. Tocco (Toronto, Canada) 101–114 Effects of preparatory information of a myelogram on patients' expectations and anxiety levels by B. Flam, P. Spice-Cherry and R. Amsel (Montreal, Canada) 115–126 Perceptions of pre-operative education in patients admitted the morning of surgery by M. Schoessler (Portland, OR) 127–136 Impact of a negative breast biopsy on subsequent breast self-examination practice by D.P. Haefner, M.H. Becker, N.K. Janz and W.M. Rutt (Ann Arbor and Detroit, MI) 137–146

EDUCATIONAL MODEL OF HEALTH CARE
Implementing a college self-care cold clinic: administrative, educational and program planning issues by J.F. Bradshaw, B.C. Sloane and M.D. Chamberlain (Hanover, NH) 147–158

MANAGEMENT ROUNDS
Warfarin patient education: are we neglecting the program design process?
by M.A. Wyness (Vancouver, Canada) 159–169

EDITORIAL
Into the mainstream of clinical preventive medicine
by E.E. Bartlett (Washington, DC) 171–180

ORIGINAL ARTICLES
Information about over-the-counter medication: the role of the pharmacy by A.Th.G. Blom and J.A.L. Rens (Utrecht, The Netherlands) 181–189 Randomized controlled evaluation of an education program for insulin treated patients with diabetes: effects on psychosocial variables by I. de Weerdt, A.Ph. Visser, G. Kok and E.A. van der Veen (Amsterdam and Maastricht, The Netherlands) 191–215 Removing barriers to effective self-management of asthma by A.E. Bauman, A.R. Craig, J. Dunsmore, G. Browne, D.H. Allen and R. Vandenberg (Sydney, Australia) 217–226

EDUCATIONAL MODEL OF HEALTH CARE
Group well-child care offers unique opportunities for patient education by L.M. Osborn (Salt Lake City, UT) 227–234

MANAGEMENT ROUNDS
The unmet needs of patients with systemic lupus erythematosus: planning for patient education by A. Bauman, C. Barnes, L. Schrieber, J. Dunsmore and P. Brooks (Sydney, Australia) 235–242
The Maine State Patient Education Forum: networking system for a rural area by L.J. Johnson and S. Hawkins (Togus, ME) 243–246 Breast cancer workshop for nurses: innovative approach to staff development by F. Casey (Portland, ME) 247–252

BOOK REVIEWS 253–256

ANNOUNCEMENT 257

Subject Index Volume 14 259
Author Index Volume 14 261
Contents Volume 14 263–264